

Develop a Support Network

Adults need people who will act as boosters—and lifelines—when they return to school. From a back-up babysitter to a shoulder to cry on, you need people who are in your camp and ready to make sure you succeed. Identify these people who are in your life now—or develop them.