Genre: Romance

Hazel Grace Lancaster a 16 year old girl and a 17 year old boy named Augustus Waters are the main characters in this book. They both have cancer. Hazel has lung cancer and Augustus has osteosarcoma on his leg. They meet at support group, Hazel was forced to go by her parents and Augustus was invited by his best friend Issac. Issac has cancer in his eye so he has one fake glass eye and is soon going to get surgery and be blind. The support group meets in a basement of a church in 'The Heart of Jesus'. A bunch of people gather there to talk about their problems with cancer. After support group Augustus takes Hazel to the movies and that's when everything changes...

Hazel recommends a book called 'An Imperial Affliction' to Augustus which is the only book she has read for the past couple of years. When Augustus finishes the book he's not very happy with the ending so he emails the author Peter Van Houten which Hazel has been trying to do for the past year. Augustus gets a reply back and tells Hazel; Augustus asks Van Houten to reply to Hazel's (which he happily did) and his assistant happily invited them both to come and meet him but the thing is they can't buy the tickets and Hazel would need all her doctors' permission to see if they can go to Amsterdam. Augustus still had his one and only wish from The Wish Foundation, which he would use for Hazel since Hazel already used her wish to visit Disney World when she was 13. At first Hazel's parents' didn't agree that she should go, but they finally gave in and it ended up being Hazel, Augustus and Hazel's mom going on the trip. When they got to Amsterdam they were greeted by Van Houten's assistance, who is a very lovely person that takes them to their hotel. The next day they were going to meet Peter Van Houten, and he ended up being very, very rude so his assistant took them out to see places in Amsterdam and paid for everything. Once they were done site seeing, Augustus and Hazel went a very lovely date, after that date Augustus told Hazel some awful news. What is the news? How will Hazel react? What will happen to them?
