

LEARNING RESOURCES SELECTION

The River East Transcona School Division recognizes that in a democracy, free inquiry is an essential ingredient of education. Therefore, recognizing this responsibility, the River East Transcona School Division subscribes in principle to the provincial department of education position on the selection of learning resources, as well as internationally adopted statements of philosophy from recognized sources such as the Canadian Library Association Statement on Intellectual Freedom, and the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights.

In River East Transcona School Division schools, learning resources are selected because they have learning value and are of interest to the students in the community. Learning resources should support engage and represent our diverse student and community population. Learning Resources are selected to implement, support and enrich the provincial curriculum and the vision, mission and beliefs of River East Transcona School Division.
